The entry-level Doctor of Physical Therapy (PT) program is designed for those individuals without formal education in physical therapy and wishing to enter the profession with the doctoral education credential. The entry-level track requires 3 years of full-time enrollment. The accredited program enrolls 40 students each July to begin their educational journey.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
To be considered for acceptance in the PT program, applicants must meet the following admission requirements:

- Have earned a cumulative, science, and pre-requisite coursework GPA of 2.75 or higher
- Have completed the following pre-requisite coursework with a grade of C or better:
  - 4 credits of Biology with lab
  - 8 credits of Human Anatomy & Physiology with lab
  - 8 credits of General Chemistry with lab
  - 8 credits of Physics with lab
  - 6 credits of Behavioral Sciences
- Applicants for the class matriculating in 2018 must submit GRE scores to PTCAS that are no older than August 1, 2013. On the new GRE score system, applicants must have a minimum verbal score of 143 and quantitative score of 143 and a minimum analytical score of 3.0. GRE scores should be submitted no later than January 15, 2018.
- Submit two letters of recommendation to PTCAS. One letter must be from a college faculty member or advisor and one letter from a licensed health care professional.
- Have experience or observation in physical therapy. Applicants need a minimum of 100 hours of observation in physical therapy practice settings under the supervision of a licensed PT or PT assistant.

APPLICATION INFORMATION
The Doctor of Physical Therapy program does not hold interviews.

For best consideration, applicants should submit their PTCAS and TUN application at least eight weeks prior to the deadlines. Due to the high number of applicants to the program, we utilize rolling admissions. It is possible that all seats will be filled prior to the PTCAS deadline. Once we have filled all our seats for the cohort, we will conclude the review of PT applications. Please plan accordingly.

Rolling admissions signifies that applications are reviewed as they arrive through the Centralized Application System and/or Touro University Nevada admissions application. The committee review selection begins after applications are completed and/or verified and will continue until all the seats are filled. Once the seats are filled and the waitlist is maximized, the application review will end for the cycle. This may take place well before the stated deadline(s) due to the volume of applications that are received each year. To receive the best consideration, applicants are encouraged to apply early.
